We are all in the same boat, united we float,
these are the original words that I wrote.
Their message can last forever and a day
for they speak of living in the most hopeful way.

On July 4th I hung our flag on my garden gate
to remember our country that we celebrate this day.
It means hard work and picnics and the beauty of our land,
and the united thoughts for which we all stand.

Please know that small acts can have a big impact,
like the Grand Canyon was formed by a river who knew that.
Make sure each time you set out to make a dent on this planet that it speaks of the hope that this flag represents.

We must all join together to survive on this earth,
and our nation has meant this for hundreds of years.
With the highest of hopes and with pure intentions,
let us go forth with this always for all people of all nations.
